

The SPECIAL CODES Section of the 2007 Police Officer Exam Answer Sheet
(Codes for Language Qualifications and Chapter 402A or 402B Preference)

Police Officer Exam Applicant: If you are fluent in a language other than English, or if you are claiming Chapter 402A or Chapter 402B preference, you may include this information on your exam record by filling in the appropriate bubble(s) on the SPECIAL CODES Section of the Answer Sheet, at the exam site.

[illegible]

Listing of Special Codes:

- A1 = American Sign Language
- B1 = Cape Verdean
- C1 = Chinese
- D1 = Haitian Creole
- E1 = Khmer
- F1 = Korean
- G1 = Laotian
- H1 = Portuguese
- I 1 = Spanish
- J1 = Vietnamese
- K1 = Other Language(s)
- L1 = Ch. 402A or 402B Preference

Example: If you are fluent in Spanish, please write the number “1” in the box directly below the alphabet “I” in the SPECIAL CODES Section of the Answer Sheet, and fill in the corresponding bubble at the same column.

[illegible]